...Pittsburgh's Authentic Japanese Restaurant
since 1983

The restaurant that introduced sushi to Pittsburgh is named Kiku, the Japanese word for chrysanthemum.

This beautiful flower exists in a variety of colors & shapes and has become such a part of Japanese culture that it has its own month - November-
when its beauty is celebrated in festivals throughout the country.

We welcome you to join our festivities,

Dozo Goyukkuri

Welcome to Kiku, where the essence of traditional Japan is woven into the heart of Pittsburgh. Established in Tokyo as Sushi Gen in 1971, our founder brought his passion for authentic Japanese cuisine to Pittsburgh in 1983, creating this exquisite dining sanctuary. Designed by a master Kyoto "Miya Daiku," our restaurant features a unique, nail-less construction typical of Kyoto's most exclusive teahouses, enveloping guests in an ambiance of serene elegance.

Inside Kiku, every corner reflects the beauty and refinement of Japanese culture. Our decor is adorned with traditional Japanese elements such as antique Tokonoma alcoves, elegant Kimonos, and Byobu folding screens, which serve as stunning art. These elements not only enhance the aesthetic of the space but also imbue it with a deep cultural resonance.

At Kiku, we are committed to delivering an authentic Japanese dining experience. We source our ingredients directly from Japan and New York each week, ensuring the freshest and highest quality fare. Join us at Kiku for a culinary journey that transcends ordinary dining, right here in the heart of Pittsburgh. Dozo Goyukkuri.
